Message From The Mayor

With Christmas and New Year celebrations now behind us, I looked back to the run up to December, with what turned out to be three busy months.

Early October saw the launch of another highly successful Words and Music Festival and we had the pleasure of visiting shops and presenting certificates to the owners for their floral displays.

We were delighted to be joined by the actor and comedian Ben Miller when we presented the award to the Nantwich Bookshop and I'm sure many of you watched his lovely recollection of growing up in Nantwich on TV in "no place like home".

I would like to say a particular thank you to the Reverend Mark Hart, for the Mayors Civic Service held at St Marys which was very well attended by the Deputy Lord lieutenant, and the High Sheriff and a number of other Mayors and Civic Dignitaries.

November was a very busy month starting with the Tree of Light Service, which gave families and friends an opportunity to place a bauble on the tree with the name or names of loved ones who have passed. It was very well supported and the tree looked wonderful.

Later in the month saw the Food Festival Awards evening and it was a pleasure to see so many local businesses, win awards. This was followed by the launch of the Nantwich Poppy Appeal, the highlight for me was the Poppy Crown which I thought was really wonderful as were the Remembrance Services we attended at Malbank School, and those in the Town and at Willaston on the 11th and 13th November.

Mid November was the start of the build up to Festive Season kicking off with the Christmas Lights Switch on. This was a really successful event, with a very large crowd, and the lights were truly stunning and contributed to the Town Centre looking wonderful. A huge thank you to so many people in the town for their efforts.

With so many concerns being expressed about global warming the launch of the Nantwich Mill Community Energy Company was awaited with interest and the presentation was both informative and enlightening. I wish them every success with their plans.

The end of November saw the Nantwich Food Bank Christmas Drop off. So many people turned up with food and presents, it was actually quite moving to see how many kind hearted and good people there are in the town and its surrounding area.

I was delighted with the entries for my "Mayors Christmas Card" competition and the standard was very high. The deserved winner was Nell, with four finalists each who won a wonderful chocolate prize courtesy of Morrisons.

I must mention, my attendance of three excellent productions by the Nantwich Players Theatre. One of which, Ben Hur was one of the funniest I have seen in many years, superbly produced and acted. As we neared Christmas, I attended a wonderful Christmas concert given by the Nantwich Concert Band and a delightful Carol Service at St Marys.

On Christmas Day I attended a Christmas Lunch, hosted by the Nantwich Methodist Church and met some lovely people, some of whom were having lunch and others were acting as helpers and drivers. It was a really enjoyable and festive occasion.

We are now looking forward to the arrival of Spring and hopefully a good summer and we wish you all a very good New Year in these difficult times.

Nantwich Town Council Approved Budget 2023/24

In November 2022, the Town Council consulted with residents on the proposed budget and precept for 2023/24.

Following the precept increase of 2021/22 because of the impact of pandemic the Town Council had committed to reducing the precept. As a result of a detailed and carefully considered budget setting process which included member workshops and Finance Committee meetings the Town Council is pleased to confirm that following the Council meeting on 15th December 2022 it has set its Precept for 2023/24 at £921,336.

The budget includes a 5% decrease in the precept demand with the average Band D household seeing a reduction of £7.65 per year or 15p per week compared to 2022/23.

Further details of Nantwich Town Council's budget can be found online.

Do You Want To Make A Difference?

Nantwich Town Council is encouraging local people who want to make a difference in the community to consider standing for election as a local Councillor.

Who are Nantwich Town Council?

Nantwich Town Council is the local level of Government, with the Principal Authority being Cheshire East. The area is divided into three wards with 15 Councillors covering the areas. Nantwich Town Council is responsible for several assets and services including the Civic Hall, Nantwich Market, Town Ranger, Town Centre specialised markets and entertainment, allotments and public toilets. They also support the community through responding to planning applications, grants, and providing benches.

But what does a local Councillor do?

- Represent the community
- Make Nantwich a better place
- Ensure public money is spent prudently
- Speak up for the community in debates and decisions at Council meetings
- Listens to the community
- Share knowledge of services
- Share information on local issues

Still Interested?

If you are passionate about your community and have the enthusiasm to make change for the better in Nantwich, this could be the role for you. You will be expected to attend and participate in Council meetings and get involved in the community. The role can be challenging, but also extremely rewarding.

Am I eligible to be a Councillor?

Anyone can stand to be a Councillor if you are:

- aged over 18
- British citizen or a citizen of either an eligible commonwealth nation or the European Union

You also have a connection to Nantwich, there are four criteria you could meet, but only need one to be able to stand:

- A registered Elector for Nantwich (and will remain on it throughout term of office)
- You have land or premises in Nantwich as owner/tenant for the 12 months preceding nomination
- You work in Nantwich (your main/only place of work is Nantwich)
- You have lived in Nantwich (or within 3 miles of the boundary) for 12 months preceding nomination

You will be unable to be elected and to serve as a Councillor if:

- You are a paid employee of the Parish
- You are subject to a bankruptcy restrictions order
- You have within five years, before the day of the election, been sentenced to a term of imprisonment (whether suspended or not)

How do I become a Councillor?

To become a Councillor you need to stand for election.

- Check when elections are (visit www.nantwichtowncouncil.gov.uk or www.cheshireeast.gov.uk for more information)
- Submit your nomination* to the returning officer at Cheshire East Council
- Wait for your nomination to be accepted and be made public
- Start your campaign
- Polling day and results

* You must make sure that your nomination is official, which means getting 2 people to sign your nomination papers (available from Cheshire East Council), and they must be registered electors.

Do I have to be a member of a political party?

No. You can represent a political party if you wish and we advise making contact with your local group as soon as possible. Alternatively, you can stand as an independent candidate.

More information about becoming a Nantwich Town Council Councillor and voting can be found on our website www.nantwichtowncouncil.gov.uk or visit www.cheshireeast.gov.uk

Local Elections - 4th May 2023 - Your Voice Matters!

For the first time, residents in Cheshire East will need to show photographic ID to vote at this year's local elections.

Residents are being urged to make sure they are ready to vote in May by checking they have an accepted form of ID.

Accepted forms of ID include a UK, European Economic Area (EEA) or Commonwealth passport; a UK, EEA or Commonwealth drivers' licence; and some concessionary travel passes, such as an older person's bus pass or an Oyster 60+ card. Voters will be able to use expired ID if they are still recognisable from the photo.

Anyone who does not have one of the accepted forms of ID can apply for free ID online via the gov.uk website or by completing a paper form.

Anyone who wants to have their say in the elections this May must also be registered to vote. It only takes five minutes to register online. Voters wishing to apply to their council for free ID should first make sure they are registered to vote.

Further information can be obtained from www.nantwichtowncouncil.gov.uk, www.cheshireeast.gov.uk and www.electoralcommission.org.uk.

Boundary Review

As reported in past editions of Talk of the Town, Cheshire East has conducted a boundary review, which has resulted in Nantwich's boundary increasing in size to incorporate Edleston and Henhull.

The number of Councillors representing Nantwich will increase to 15 and the Parish will be split into three wards, North, South and the newly formed West. These changes will come into effect from April and therefore, will impact on the local elections held in May.

Nantwich Annual Town Meeting

The Annual Town Meeting is an open meeting for all residents of Nantwich, and whilst it is organised by the Town Council, it is not a council meeting. The meeting is chaired by the Mayor of Nantwich with the Town Clerk taking the minutes, and Councillors having no more standing than other electors of Nantwich.

The meeting is an open forum giving residents an opportunity to raise issues they feel are important to the town. This could include:

- Suggesting ideas for the Town Council to investigate
- Raising concerns about planned activities in the town
- Asking questions to the Town Council
- Raising general issues affecting the town

Any registered elector for Nantwich has the right to speak at the meeting, full details are included in the agenda.

The meeting will take place in the Peggy Killick Suite at Nantwich Civic Hall. You are most welcome just to come along to the meeting, however we would appreciate you confirming your attendance in advance so that we can keep track of numbers.

TOWN MEETING

Nantwich Food Festival brings back the Food Awards

Following a break of two years, the Nantwich Food Festival were pleased to recognise the contribution made by food and drink businesses to the town at a glittering 2022 Nantwich Food Awards ceremony.

Held at the Civic Hall and following on from the Nantwich Food Festival, local residents had voted online in their thousands to choose their favourite food and drink establishments, producers and retailers.

The awards evening not only allows the Nantwich Food Festival to reward the high standard of food and drink businesses that attract many visitors and tourists to the town, but also provides an opportunity to say a big thank you to the many volunteers and sponsors of the food festival.

At an evening of music, entertainment, tasty food and a gallery of dignitaries, when it came to the awards there was some nervous anticipation amongst the attendees as to who the award winners would be.

There were many well deserved entrants in each of the six categories, but in the end it came down to the public vote.

So the winners of the 2022 Nantwich Food festival awards are:

- Best Newcomer; St. Martha's
- Bar Stars; Six
- Café/coffee Shop of the Year; joint winners Ginger & Pickles and Cafe de Paris
- Pub with Food of the Year; The Leopard
- Best Takeaway of the Year; Jordy's Pizza
- Restaurant of the Year; St. Martha's

But as the awards evening drew to a close, the Food Festival itself was the surprise recipient of an award. The High Sheriff of Cheshire, Jeannie France-Hayhurst presented a special award to the entire Nantwich Food Festival family in recognition of the great and valuable work undertaken by the volunteers and their contribution to the local community.

On presenting the award to Ana Martins, Volunteer co-ordinator for the Nantwich Food Festival, the High Sheriff said how she was impressed by the way that the Food Festival is entirely organised and run by volunteers in such a professional way and to the benefit of whole community.

After a short break and a massive Christmas collection for Nantwich Foodbank, plans are now well underway for the 2023 festival running from 1st-3rd September.

Talk OF THE Town

Bloomin' Marvellous

Nantwich in Bloom were very pleased to receive a Gold Award in last Year's North West in Bloom competition achieving excellent marks for Horticulture, Environment and Community Involvement. This was achieved through the hard work of all our volunteers along with the efforts of many other local voluntary group members as well as support from Nantwich Town Council, Ansa, and other local organisations and businesses.

Long standing member of Nantwich in Bloom and ex Reaseheath Head of Horticulture, Tom Deans, was also honoured with an outstanding contribution award by NWIB.

The sign on the new Lakeside Community Copse was officially unveiled in November by Doug Butterill ex Chair of Nantwich in Bloom to commemorate all those in the local community affected by the Covid 19 epidemic.

We haven't been resting on our laurels, but have replanted all our planters and beds in the Town with winter bedding, such as polyanthus, pansies, primulas and violas, and more sustainable planting to produce a colourful flowering display in the spring.

Nantwich in Bloom are Transport for Wales Station Adopters for Nantwich Station and a dedicated team of our volunteers have also been at work on the Railway Station platforms maintaining and creating winter displays for the benefit of residents, visitors and rail travellers.

Autumn planting workshops have been run with two local Dementia Friends Groups and we have donated bulbs to local primary schools and elderly peoples' homes, supported living accommodation and community venues for planting to produce flowering container displays in the spring.

Despite the cold weather, work has restarted on renovating the willow feature on Nantwich Riverside with plans for creating further living willow constructions, and also winter pruning of the fruit trees in the Community Orchard is scheduled for February.

We are continuing our work in Coed Wen to improve its biodiversity with students from Reaseheath College.

Of course, we are always planning ahead to source and grow plants for the forthcoming summer season with a theme for this year of celebrating changing times.

We welcome new volunteers to help us in all our tasks, including publicity, social media and administration. You don't have to have green fingers, just be willing to enjoy working with others to create a better, greener environment for residents and visitors to Nantwich. If interested please contact pennyrow123@outlook.com
